

LEADERSHIP HONORS AT TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

The Undergraduate Honors Program at Texas A&M University offers an opportunity for highly motivated and scholarly students to participate in challenging university-wide academic study. Leadership Honors allows students majoring in Agricultural Leadership & Development (ALED) or University Studies-Leadership (USAL-LED) to participate in honors curriculum specific to their major field of study.

Department Requirements to Graduate with Leadership Honors for ALED & USAL-LED Majors:

1. Have a cumulative GPA of at least a 3.5
2. Have a GPA of at least a 3.25 in honors courses
3. No grade lower than a B in all honors courses
4. Complete the following 18 credit hours of Honors classes:
 - 6 hours of approved ALED Honors Courses
 - a. Select from: ALED 301, 340
 - b. See advisor for updated list as there is no guarantee of the semesters offered
 - 6 hours of honors courses outside of the ALEC Department
 - a. Recommended courses are ones that satisfy any University Core Curriculum requirement, emphasis area, minor requirement or directed electives
 - 6 hours of honors courses either in or outside of the ALEC Department
 - a. See advisor if you are interested in honors contracts, ALED 485: Directed Studies, or ALED 491: Undergraduate research to satisfy this requirement

Note: If approved by the University Honors Program Office, a maximum of 6 credit hours from AP/IB examinations and/or honors transfer credit may be used to satisfy the requirements of Leadership Honors

Leadership Honors Recognition

All completed honors coursework taken at Texas A&M University will be designated as such on the student's transcript to show that the student has participated in this enhanced curriculum. After graduation, the transcript will also note that the student has achieved the distinction of Leadership Honors, as well as any other university-wide honors distinction the student has completed.

Admission to Leadership Honors

Students interested in pursuing Leadership Honors are encouraged to speak with the Leadership Honors Coordinator to complete the application. Applicants are required to have a minimum 3.5 GPA.

Coordinator

Dr. Lori Moore

lmoore@tamu.edu

2nd Floor, AGLS